Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 27 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cold today and also very windy in many areas.

Today:
Early rain, sleet and snow over eastern, southern and central England slowly becoming confined to eastern and southeastern England. Elsewhere, sunny spells, but also some wintry showers in the north. Very windy for many and feeling cold.

Tonight:
Wintry showers in the north and east, and a few showers western Wales and Cornwall. Otherwise generally dry with clear spells. Cold and frosty with icy patches. Becoming less windy.

Sunday:
Many areas fine and dry but cloudier in the far west and further wintry showers in the north and east. Feeling cold again, but less windy than today.

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Largely fine but cold on Monday with showers along North Sea coasts, plus some patchy rainfall and hill snow in Scotland. Remaining unsettled with further rain and showers into midweek.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.